About Kater Technologies Inc.

Like many great ideas before it, Kater was conceived out of an inconvenience. The staff at Monark Group, the founding company of Kater, was regularly pained by the amount of time and productivity the team lost while driving and parking when regularly commuting between their office in South Surrey, and meetings in downtown Vancouver or the airport. The alternatives faced were overpriced limos and town cars, or unreliable taxis which lacked convenience and comfort while also being overpriced and underwhelming in terms of style. This problem did not have an acceptable solution, hence Kater was born.
